

Woodpecker class Design Technology Lessons

In Design Technology lessons students have been designing and creating bird houses to take home and hang in their gardens. These sessions required many different skills to learn and use. We are very proud of the final results and we are hoping the birds will like them too!

